DEPOSITS: A deposit is required to reserve a space on an IWLS course. Deposit amounts are listed below:

- $250 for each IWLS domestic course
- $500 for each IWLS international course
- $750 for each IWLS domestic semester
- $1500 for each IWLS international semester

PAYMENTS: We accept personal checks, cashiers checks, money orders, wire transfers, and most major credit cards. Full payment is due 90 days prior to departure.

REFUNDS: In the event that you are unable to join us the following guidelines will apply. All deposits include a $150 non-refundable registration fee. Full Refunds, less registration fee, will be provided 90 days prior to the trip date. 50% refunds will be provided 60-89 prior to trip date. The 50% retained by IWLS can be credited towards another trip if used within 12 months. No refunds will be provided with 59 days of the trip date. This policy has been established to meet the demands of planning well-organized courses. If for any reason a course ends early there will be no refund. If you have not paid in full 90 days prior to your trips departure, and you have not contacted us regarding other payment options, we reserve the right to schedule another individual in your place. In this event, you are responsible for all associated costs.

RELEASE, ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RISK AND INDEMNITY AGREEMENT: All participants are required to sign our Release, Acknowledgment of Risk and Indemnity Agreement. Please take time to read this form and make yourself familiar with it before signing. If the form is signed electronically, participants may be required to sign the form in person upon arrival for the activity, but nothing shall be deemed to affect the efficacy of the electronically completed and signed form.

MEDICAL INSURANCE: IWLS requires that all students have their own health insurance. Individuals are solely responsible for any medical costs, including all associated rescue, evacuation, and transportation costs. Please take time to review your medical insurance policy. Make certain that your coverage extends to the location of your course, and that it provides coverage for any potential, associated, costs. Many policies will provide coverage for travel abroad for a small additional fee.

IF YOUR TRIP IS CANCELLED: If, for any reason, the International Wilderness Leadership School has to cancel your course, all deposits and trip payments will be refunded in full, or, are fully transferable to another course. IWLS will not be responsible for any costs associated with cancellations including, but not limited to: flight cancellation fees, flight change fees, and/or associated lodging and meal fees.

TRAVEL INSURANCE is required for international courses and highly recommended for domestic courses. In many cases travel insurance will help cover medical expenses, evacuation costs, lost baggage, travel delays, and other costs in the event of cancellation of the trip. We have worked with almost every provider of travel insurance and feel strongly that the Adventure Travel Protection Plan from AIG/Travel Guard is the best one available. It is one of the only plans that covers high altitude climbing and has significant benefits if purchased within 15 days of making your trip deposit. Further information: <http://www.iwls.com/insurance.html>

WEATHER DELAYS AND ASSOCIATED CONSIDERATIONS: In the event that your trip is unable to depart at the scheduled time, individuals are responsible for any associated costs including food and lodging. Furthermore, weather and associated logistical challenges may make it difficult to cover all curriculum points. In the event that a course is delayed or changed in response to unforeseeable forces of nature, IWLS is not responsible for any delays or changes in course structure. The natural world is a highly volatile and ever changing environment. IWLS are experts at dealing with this changing environment. Despite the instructors' best efforts, weather and environmental conditions can change the focus of a course.

PARTICIPANT RESPONSIBILITY: Course participants are responsible for their own well-being. This includes good health and strong physical condition. Participants joining a course are required to obtain a physician's release prior to departure. Course members are responsible for: knowing all pre-departure information, preparing proper equipment and clothing, conforming to basic standards of personal hygiene (to minimize the risk of travelers diseases) and acting in a considerate manner toward all group members and with respect for each country's customs. Participants are prohibited from using illegal drugs and alcohol while on IWLS courses. Participant gives their consent for IWLS to use their photograph, likeness and/or voice to be used in its publications, including its website.

Please initial here to verify that you have read and understand the above Course Policies.

Participant Initials: _____

PARTICIPANT RESPONSIBILITY (continued): Participant's responsibilities further include the following: (1) they are responsible for reviewing the various forms, releases, and information contained in the web site and forms; (2) they will follow the instructions and directions of guides and expedition leaders.

For individuals dealing with behavioral, motivational or rehabilitation issues, IWLS is not an appropriate choice. Participants must be able to meet the physical, mental, social or safety demands of our courses. Students may be expelled if IWLS deems their behavior unsafe, disruptive, or distracting from the educational goal of their course/expedition. Harassment, use of drugs and alcohol, theft or misuse of property, low motivation and disregarding instructions are examples of behavior that will lead to expulsion. If a student is expelled there will be no refund, and the student is responsible for costs incurred from their expulsion.

Please note: Conditions of Land Based Courses and/or Conditions of Water Based Courses will apply depending on the nature of your course.

CONDITIONS OF LAND BASED COURSES:

1. We are committed to helping climbers achieve their personal goals safely and enjoyably. The International Wilderness Leadership School (a division of Alaska Mountain Guides and Climbing School Inc.) its owners, agents, employees, officers, directors, associates, affiliated companies and subcontractors (herein after collectively referred to as "IWLS"), hereby give notice that they are wholly independent of any hotels, transportation companies, land operators and suppliers of travel or other services (other than those provided directly by IWLS and its employees) that may be used in connection with the trip or expedition. IWLS assumes no responsibility or liability in connection with the operation or service of any aircraft, motor vehicle, other conveyance, inn, lodge, hotel or services provided by any independent contractor or service provider which may be used wholly, or in part, for services to Alaska Mountain Guides International, Inc. and its clients, and will not be responsible for any act, error, omission, nor for any injury, loss accident, delay, inconvenience, irregularity or damage which may be occasioned in conjunction with any such services. This includes acts of nature, civil disturbance, government restrictions or failure of any means of conveyance to adhere to published schedule.

2. IWLS reserves the right to change the price of, cancel or withdraw any course for any reason whatsoever prior to departure. After departure, IWLS reserves the right to alter or omit any part of the itinerary, to substitute hotels or leaders, to change any means of conveyance without notice and without allowance of refund, with liability for increased costs (if any) borne by the course members. IWLS reserves the right to accept or reject any person as a course member at any time.

3. I understand, and am aware, that during the course in which I am currently participating, or will participate in, under the arrangements of IWLS, certain risks and dangers may arise including, but not limited to: altitude; steep or treacherous terrain; inclement weather; avalanches, rock fall and other natural occurrences; exposure to sun, strong wind, cold temperatures, storms, and lightning; misuse, failure or loss of equipment; shortage of food or water supply; aggressive and/or poisonous wildlife; the hazards of traveling in politically unstable areas; the dangers of civil disturbances and war; the forces of nature; acts or omissions of IWLS; travel by boat, automobile, train, ship, aircraft or other means of conveyance; and accident or illness in remote places without access to medical facilities, transportation, or means of rapid evacuation and assistance.

4. I certify that I am familiar with the dangers, hazards and risks incident to land based courses as listed above. And I accept and clearly understand that these hazards and risks may result in personal injuries to me and others, including paralysis and death, and hereby expressly assume all of the above risks including, the risks of acts or omissions of IWLS and do hereby expressly agree to hold IWLS harmless and defend them against any and all liability.

In consideration of the services furnished me, and to be furnished me as a member of this course, I hereby release IWLS and all the members of the course from any and all damages, injuries, losses, or any cause of action which may result to me, my legal representatives or others purporting to exercise statutory or other rights arising out of, or in connection with this course. And I hereby assume each and every damage incident to my participation, and agree to indemnify and hold harmless IWLS and all members of the course against any sums which they or any of them may be subject to pay in consequence of any claim.
